

Media information

18 March 2013

Stellar speakers line up for

London Global Green Leader conference

19 June 2013, Central London

World-class experts are lining up to speak about the innovative design and sustainable development in London's landmark buildings, including The Olympic Park, Central St Giles and Regent's Place at the London Global Green Leader conference on 19 June 2013.

Duncan Innes, Executive Director of Real Estate, London Legacy Development Corporation, will present the business case for sustainability in London's largest legacy development, the Olympic Park. Discussing his presentation, Innes said: "Our biggest sustainability challenge has been delivering zero carbon onsite at scale; which we have met by targeting our resources for maximum impact, acting locally and thinking globally."

Simon Wilkes, Head of Business Space Development, Legal & General Property, will speak about balancing competing sustainability regimes at work in progress, Hanover Square. Justin Snoxall, Head of Business Group, Corporate Responsibility, British Land will discuss energy reduction targets: making buildings perform. Other confirmed speakers include: Lesley Hodgson, Director Sustainability, Buro Happold; Andrew Smith, Global Head of Property, Aberdeen Asset Management; Dr Mike Lawrence, University of Bath.

Themes to be explored during the conference include:

- Driving Forward the Transformation of the Built Environment, London as a Global, Green Exemplar
- The Olympic Park Legacy 2013; Meeting Sustainability Objectives in a Building Designed for Re-Design and Re-Use
- Balancing competing sustainability regimes - Building Standards, Central London Standards, BREEAM ratings on works in progress
- Solutions to reduce carbon emissions in the built environment, moving from a short-term to a long-term profitability of a building.
- Sustainability in Property Investment, Environmental, Social and Economic Considerations in Central London
- What is the Business Case for Investing in Innovation for Sustainable Residential and Commercial Property in London Today?
- Panel discussion: Is Sustainability Primarily a Reputational Issue for Investors in Residential and Commercial Property in London in 2013?

Anwar Harland-Khan, Sustain Worldwide CEO, said: "London is home to many of the world's most iconic buildings - several are also sustainability exemplars. We are delighted to be presenting at one focused event the luminaries who have been responsible for bringing them to life - the funders, developers, engineers, architects and contractors - for what will be an international calibre occasion, attended by the brightest minds in global property development."

Confirmed conference sponsors include Gold Partner Climaveneta, the European leader in central climate control. The delegate rate for the one-day conference is £295, discounted to £235 until 31 March 2013. Delegate places are limited to a maximum of 100 and will be allocated on a "first come, first served" basis. For further information and to register, visit:

<http://www.sustainworldwide.com/london-global-green-leader-conference-2013.html>

Gold Partner

Media Partners

Editor's notes:

Sustain Worldwide is an elite leadership organisation that drives innovation and profitable sustainability to the heart of global property development. To arrange an interview with the CEO Anwar Harland-Khan or the speakers, contact Karen Keeman as below. For further information about Sustain Worldwide, visit <http://www.sustainworldwide.com/>

Media partner with our premium event:

Benefits include high visibility for your brand and publication on the day of the conference at a leading London venue, and on all pre-event marketing collateral that will be seen by tens of thousand professionals working at senior level in the built environment sectors. For further information, email:

Events@SustainWorldwide.com

For further media information and photography, contact:

Karen Keeman

Telephone: +44 (0)7947 376628

E-mail: Karen@SustainWorldwide.com