Eco-architectural and interior designer Oliver Heath challenges the industry to “consider sustainability at all levels”
at London Global Green Leader Conference

According to tv personality and one of the UK's thought leaders in creating sustainable spaces, “sustainable architecture must look to consider the environment at all levels, from micro to macro, reducing the buildings' impact whilst creating inspiring places to live and work.”

Oliver will challenge the industry to strive for even higher standards when the leading development, construction, architecture, engineering and property sectors players meet at Tate Modern on 19 June 2013 for the London Global Green Leader conference.

The event will champion the innovative design and sustainable development of London's landmark buildings, including The Olympic Park, The Shard, Unilever House, Central St Giles and Regent's Place.

Duncan Innes, Executive Director of Real Estate, London Legacy Development Corporation, will present the business case for sustainability in London's largest legacy development, the Olympic Park. Simon Wilkes, Head of Business Space Development, Legal & General Property, will discuss conflicting regulatory requirements in central London which impact delivery of sustainable buildings.

Other confirmed speakers include: Dr James Thonger, Director ARUP, Lesley Hodgson, Associate Director for Sustainability, Buro Happold; Andrew Smith, Global Head of Property, Aberdeen Asset Management; Mauro Montello, Director Climaveneta; Mat Lown, Partner TFT; Dr Mike Lawrence, University of Bath.

Themes to be explored during the conference include:

- Driving Forward the Transformation of the Built Environment, London as a Global, Green Exemplar
- The Olympic Park Legacy 2013; Meeting Sustainability Objectives in a Building Designed for Re-Design and Re-Use
- Balancing competing sustainability regimes - Building Standards, Central London Standards, BREEAM ratings on works in progress
- Solutions to reduce carbon emissions in the built environment, moving from a short-term to a long-term profitability of a building.
- Sustainability in Property Investment, Environmental, Social and Economic Considerations in Central London
- What is the Business Case for Investing in Innovation for Sustainable Residential and Commercial Property in London Today?
- Panel discussion: Is Sustainability Primarily a Reputational Issue for Investors in Residential and Commercial Property in London in 2013?

Anwar Harland-Khan, Sustain Worldwide CEO, said: "London is the leading global city. It leads in finance, fashion, architecture, design and engineering. We are proud to be providing a showcase for the leading sustainable buildings and for those who have brought them into being - the funders, developers, engineers, architects and contractors - for what will be a highlight of the summer."

Confirmed conference sponsors include Gold Partner Climaveneta, the European leader in central climate control. The delegate rate for the one-day conference is £295. Delegate places are limited to a maximum of 100 and will be allocated on a "first come, first served" basis. For further information and to register, visit:
